SUMMIT COMMERCIAL FINANCE ROLLS UP THEIR SLEEVES WITH NEW “SUMMIT CAN” PROGRAM

(Scottsdale, AZ) Employees of Summit Commercial Finance traded in their headsets and calculators for mops and cutting boards when participating in their most recent volunteer project at Phoenix based Andre House of Arizona. Through the company’s Summit CAN program, volunteers spent the evening preparing and serving meals to the poor and homeless at Andre House’s Hospitality Center in Central Phoenix.

“Volunteering at Andre House made me appreciate the small things in my own life and helped remind me to not take anything for granted.” said Scott Dziuk, Account Executive. “Compassion is an integral part of Summit's corporate culture and it is essential that our employees are committed to giving back to society.” said Scott C. Forrest, President and Chief Executive Officer of Summit Commercial Finance.

Summit Commercial Finance has created “Summit CAN (Community Action Network)” and as a result have focused on a minimum of one company-wide activity per quarter. In addition, they are promoting a company culture of community mindedness by encouraging all employees to volunteer on an individual basis. Community service projects have ranged from participation and fund-raising in community 5K’s, “adopting” families during the holiday season, organizing blood drives and working with the poor and homeless population.

Summit Commercial Finance has worked with the following charitable organizations:

- The Ronald McDonald House
- Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation
- Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation
- National Alliance for Autism Research/Autism Speaks
- Andre House of Arizona
- Phoenix Day
- Make a Difference
- Cumberland Presbyterian Children's Home
- The Red Cross
